

ANOTHER DAY OF RESTING

Laid Out for Pres. Wilson to Bring About Complete
Restoration

RELAPSE FEARED BY PHYSICIANS

The Illness of the President
Has Covered Two Weeks

Washington, D. C., Oct. 10.—Fearing that exertion might retard his steady progress toward recovery, President Wilson's physicians again ordered him to remain in his room to-day and to give no attention to official matters.

From the beginning of his illness more than two weeks ago, Dr. Grayson has insisted that a considerable period of rest would be required for restoration of normal health. This prescription he intends to carry out despite the president's urgent request that he be permitted to return to work.

STATE TUBERCULOSIS CAMPAIGN As Outlined By State Board of Health and Tuberculosis Association.

The campaign proposed to be made by the Vermont state board of health and the Vermont State Tuberculosis association in the fight against tuberculosis is outlined in the following statement taken from the last quarterly bulletin of the state board of health:

"The Vermont Tuberculosis association, although a distinct organization depending for its support on voluntary contributions, works in the closest co-operation with the state board of health. The members of the state board of health serve on the executive committee of the tuberculosis association and the executive secretary of the association is a member of the staff of the state board of health.

"The association advocates five hospitals or wards for tuberculosis located one for the northeast, northwest, southeast and southwest, and central sections of the state. This will make it possible for open cases to be cared for at a hospital and still be near enough so that other members of the family may visit frequently. Experience has proven that if the hospital is too far away from the patient's home he generally refuses to remain after one or two months.

"The central section of the state will soon have a hospital located at Barre. The other sections have no hospitals yet. "The association plans to divide itself in five parts, one part for each hospital section. In every town in each section there will be organized a health committee and each committee shall appoint one of its members to represent it on the district board of directors. The district board of directors with the district health officer shall meet every two months and shall supervise the work of the district public health nurse.

"Local committees shall conduct a tuberculosis survey of their respective towns; that is, by consulting with doctors, ministers, social workers, town records, and so forth. It shall list all cases of tuberculosis, suspected tuberculosis,

How N. Y. City Children Care for Their Teeth

The principals of New York's public schools only allow the children to receive such dental preparations as contain no grit to scratch the tender enamel, no drugs to inflame the delicate gums. Mothers should be equally careful at home.

Mrs. K. K. Jackson of Public School 78, and Mr. Romeo J. Perretti of No. 85, both of New York, are glad to have their pupils use Albodon Dental Cream. They have investigated and know it is both effective and safe. Albodon is calcium carbonate, saponified and mixed with the well-known oils of cloves, cinnamon and eucalyptus, making a composition one-third cleansing, one-third polishing, one-third antiseptic. Authorities agree this is the best for women and children.

A tube of this cream containing sufficient for 85 brushings can be bought for 25c at any drug store.

MRS. MAY COULD NOT WORK

Made Well and Strong by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Columbia, Pa.—"I was very weak and run down and had dragging-down pains and pains in my back. I could not get around to do my work and had to sit down and rest often during the day. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the papers and read the testimonials, so I thought I would try it. Now I am healthier than I ever was in my life, and can recommend it to any woman who suffers as I did."

—Mrs. ELIZABETH MAY, R.F.D. No. 1, Columbia, Pa.

The reason Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so successful in overcoming woman's ills is because it contains the tonic, strengthening properties of good old fashioned roots and herbs, which act on the female organism. Women from all parts of the country are continually testifying to its strengthening, curative influence, and the letters which we are constantly publishing from women in every section of this country prove beyond question the merit of this famous root and herb medicine.

GIRLS! DRAW A MOIST CLOTH THROUGH HAIR

Let "Danderine" save your hair and double its beauty

Oh, girls, such an abundance of thick, heavy, invigorated hair: a perfect mass of wavy, silky hair, gloriously fluffy, bright and so easy to manage.

Just moisten a cloth with a little "Danderine" and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; this magically removes all dirt, excess oil and grease, but your hair is not left brittle, dry, stringy or faded, but charmingly soft, with glossy, golden gleams and tender lights. The youthful glints, tints and color are again in your hair.

"Danderine" is a tonic-beautifier. Besides doubling the beauty of the hair at once, it checks dandruff and stops falling hair. Get delightful Danderine for a few cents at any drug or toilet counter and use it as a dressing and invigorator as told on bottle.—Adv.

GROOM A CHARLOTTE MAN

George E. Frink and Mildred Lyons married in Brockton, Mass.

Brockton, Mass., Oct. 9.—Miss A. Mildred Lyons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Lyons, and George E. Frink of this city, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Frink of Charlotte, Vt., were married Tuesday evening at the rectory of St. Patrick's church by Rev. Bartholomew E. Killian. They were attended by Miss Katherine E. Kingman and Harold W. Lyons, brother of the bride. The bride, who is a music teacher, is a member of the Twentieth Century Catholic club. The groom was in an officers' training school when the armistice was signed.

PUBLIC INVITED.

To Attend Norwich University Centennial Celebration Oct. 10-14.

Northfield, Oct. 9.—The committee in charge of the Norwich university centennial celebration, acting for the trustees and faculty, extend to the people of Vermont a most cordial invitation to be present at the centennial exercises from Oct. 10 to 14, inclusive. Norwich as a state institution, delights in playing the host to the public, especially to the people of Washington and Orange counties, our good neighbors and friends, who have so many times shown their interest and good will.

DUTCH PHOTOGRAPHERS TOOK PICTURES

Strong Efforts Are Being Made to Suppress Publication

Amerongen, Oct. 10. (By the Associated Press).—Strong efforts are being made to prevent the publication of photographs of William Hohenzollern, taken on Saturday last by two Dutch photographers, who were concealed in a load of hay near his temporary home. He is said to have offered a large sum for the negative and all prints made from them.

The correspondent has seen the pictures, which show Count Hohenzollern bearded and sturdy and appearing in a happy mood while talking to his wife and General Zontard.

THINKS HIMSELF MILLIONAIRE.

Escaped Lunatic, Well Armed, Makes Things Exciting Round Belvidere.

Morrisville, Oct. 9.—John Coats, a man who escaped from an insane asylum in a far western state, has made his way to this section, having a sister living in Johnson, has caused the officers about here some wild times and is still at large.

Monday night he was frightening the people of Belvidere and officers went there and located him in a room at the J. O. Thomas boarding house. He was asked to come down, but replied by sending a bullet through the door over the officers' heads and with the statement that he would hurt them if not let alone until morning, when he would see them. As he was armed with a repeating rifle, a heavy revolver and plenty of ammunition, it was thought best to wait until morning rather than start an argument, but during a wind and rain storm about 4 a. m. the next day he escaped through the window of the room, dropped silently to the ground and disappeared. Officers are still searching for him.

His sister notified them to look out for themselves as he is reputed to be a dead shot, from long practice in the mining regions of the west and would surely shoot to kill if brought into a close place.

His mania seems harmless enough, as he imagines he is a millionaire and is giving out checks to any he thinks needs them in sums of $25 to $200.

A Call for 80,000 Census Enumerators.

The director of the census Hon. Samuel L. Rogers, announces that 80,000 enumerators will be needed to take the next census, and a month or more in rural districts. Rates of pay will vary, depending upon the locality and character of the district to be canvassed. The average pay per enumerator at the census of 1910 was about $70. At this coming census it will probably be not less than $100.

"Active, intelligent, and reliable men and women, not less than 18 years of age, are needed for this task," said Director Rogers, "and in a sense, this is a call for volunteers. The importance of a complete and reliable census, especially in these critical times when more than ever before perhaps we need complete data regarding population, conditions, tendencies, and resources, can hardly be over emphasized. The reorganization of the social and economic structure and the readjustment of international relations necessitated by the war must be based on accurate knowledge if we are to act wisely and deal justly with all classes and all interests. It is hoped, therefore, that public-spirited energetic people throughout the country will volunteer to act as census enumerators even though they may not care for the positions so far as the pay is concerned. I should be sorry to think, and I do not believe, that all our patriotism was used up by the war and none left over for public service in times of peace."

G. Herbert Pape, supervisor of the census for the second district of Vermont, which includes the counties of Caledonia, Essex, Orange, Orleans, Washington, Windham and Windsor, states that he will need about 160 enumerators for this district. Applications or requests for application forms should be sent to him on or before Oct. 15. His address is Barre, Vt. As a test of their fitness for the work, applicants will be required to fill out a sample schedule and will be duly notified of the time and place for this test. So far as practicable the place selected will be one which is easily accessible.

George Irish, the 14-year-old Burlington student who tried to kill himself by shooting because his parents objected to his being out late at night and keeping company with a girl considerably older than himself, was taken to the industrial school at Vergennes to spend the remainder of his minority.

Encouraging Bolshevism

Everything that falsely encourages unrest also encourages bolshevism.

Misunderstanding of American industrial organization, and of its benefits to mankind, leads to unrest, dissatisfaction, and radicalism.

For example, the Federal Trade Commission tells the public that the large packers had an agreed price for lard substitute (made of cotton-seed oil)

It reproduces letters taken from the files of one of the packers, showing that such agreed price existed.

But it failed to mention that the agreed price was determined at the request of and in co-operation with the Food Administration!

Even the Department of Justice, in its unjust attempt to create prejudice against the packers, has made public these same letters, with no explanation.

How long must this kind of misrepresentation continue? In so far as it is believed, it not only breeds discontent, but results in injustice to our industry.

A FAMOUS VERMONT.

Henry Mills Alden for Half Century Editor of Harper's.

Henry Mills Alden, who died in New York at the age of 82 years after having been editor of Harper's Magazine since 1869, was born in Mount Tabor in 1839. He received his education at school in Housick Falls, N. Y., and at Williams college, from which college he was graduated in 1857. He also was graduated from Andover theological seminary three years later, but never entered the ministry. At Williams he was a fellow student of James A. Garfield, Horace M. Scudder, George Washington Gladden and John J. Ingalls.

Mr. Alden first became associated with the Harpers in 1863, when he collaborated with Alfred H. Guernsey on "The pictorial history of the rebellion." Shortly after this Fletcher Harper asked Mr. Alden to take the office management of the weekly. Mr. Harper was the real conductor of that periodical and Mr. Alden's duties were principally to select stories and to write articles to accompany the illustrations.

In 1869 Mr. Alden undertook the editorial management of Harper's Magazine, which position he had held ever since. Mr. Alden was an affable man to meet, very much absorbed in his work and exceedingly loyal to his devotion to the house of Harper & Bros. He believed it was an editor's function to edit rather than to write, although he occasionally had editorial utterances in the magazine, and he revived the department entitled, "The editor's study," which he personally conducted.

Mr. Alden enjoyed some fame as an author. In 1890, "God in His World" was published anonymously. Its success was phenomenal, and had one very uncommon feature. The fine spirits recognized its distinction, hailing it as a book that would appeal to the select few; nevertheless the average reader was somehow attracted by it, bought it for himself and recommended it to his friends. Lowell and Stedman, among the poets, Bishops Phillips Brooks and F. D. Huntington, among the divines, declared that it was "inspired," or "spiritual" or "wonderful," or filled with the "great things in which one's soul finds more and more delight;" nevertheless 8,000 or 10,000 copies were sold and in the newspapers of that year it was spoken of as the most successful work of religious thought of the season. "A Study of Death," which was Mr. Alden's next book, was not published until five years later.

Mr. Alden was twice married the first time in 1861 to Miss Susan F. Foster, of North Andover, and the second time to Miss Ada Foster Murray of Norfolk, Va., in 1900.

BIG POWER CONSOLIDATION.

Vermont Hydro-Electric Co. to Take Over Several Companies.

Rutland, Oct. 9.—While no order has yet been made, members of the Vermont public service commission who were in this city yesterday, stated that the board has granted the petition of the Vermont Hydro-Electric company for the right to take over the properties of the Colonial Light and Power company, the Claremont Power and Light company, the Claremont Power and Light company and the Western Vermont Power and Light company, the object of the move being to consolidate the business of these corporations under one head in order to better develop various properties in this vicinity so as to produce additional electric power for which there is now a general demand. The Rutland Railway, Light and Power company and its allied companies lacks the facilities to produce any more "juice" at present.

The granting of this petition means that the consolidated interests, operated under a single head, will commence at once to build power plants and install other electrical equipment, bankers having already become sufficiently interested so that the money is in sight.

Conditions Imposed.
The petition for the consolidation is granted under the condition that one development must be completed by Jan. 1, 1921, and another by Jan. 1, 1922, the company having an option as to commencing work on the East creek project at Mill village or the Mill river plant at East Claremont, as they see fit. It is understood that the East creek power will be developed first. This will mean the erection of a dam and a power house at a cost of hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Rev. S. Grant Lewis, a native of Vermont, who was formerly a member of the Vermont conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, filling pastorates in Hardwick, Marshfield, Orleans, Danville, etc., before going to Iowa, has recently received the appointment to the Highland Park Methodist Episcopal church at Des Moines, Ia., where he will be located for the coming year. Mr. Lewis left Vermont about 12 years ago.
